Unification finds rough going at public hearing

By Grace Hebard

The proposal for a Campbell Unified School District which comes before the voters on April 20 was viewed with alarm by most of the audience who attended the public hearing at the Campbell High School auditorium Monday night.

The school districts concerned in the unification proposal are the Campbell Union High School District, and the Burbank, Union, Cambrian, Moreland, and Campbell Elementary School districts. These districts encompass 44,500 pupils.

Teachers, administrators, PTA representatives and the general public heard Dr. Norman Dolloff, chairman of the County Committee on School District Organization reiterate that the larger school district would mean closer communication between elementary and secondary schools and equal services to all students in the district.

Dolloff told his audience, programs such as aid to the gifted or the retarded, the library program, psychological and guidance programs, music and foreign languages, would be available to all students in the district with specially trained teachers.

The ability to make purchases in larger quantities, and the elimination of duplication of duties would also cut costs, Dolloff said.

He did indicate, however, that the larger school district did not necessarily mean a cut in taxes. It depended, he said, on the maximum tax rate which the proposed seven member school board would levy. It is estimated at this time to be 3.586. This includes the 1.25 rate for the Campbell High School District. In some cases, Dolloff said, taxes would be lowered and others would be raised, depending on the amount of taxes they are now paying.

Dolloff told his audience that the State Legislature and the State Board of Education were definitely in favor of larger districts and were acting on advice from experts in the field.

Those against the formation of a large district based their arguments on a cost increase which they said was inevitable and that there was no guarantee of a better educational program.

Delos Bagby, superintendent of the Cambrian School District, said he was in favor of a unification program, but one no larger than 15 to 20,000 students.

He pointed out that Dr. Henry Gunn, who was at the speaker's table, formulated a plan for an admirable school district in Palo Alto, which included only 15,000 students.

with George Vierhus

DO YOU MISS IT?-- Or, for that matter, did you even know it had been discontinued?

We refer to the noontime blast of the Campbell fire station horn on Central Ave. that for so many years had signalled that it was time to put on the feed bag for lunch.

The firemen haven't pressed the button of that horn at noontime for more than two weeks now.

But if someone hadn't called our attention to this very obvious fact, we doubt if we would have noticed the omission.

Isn't that awful?

We have been in this community for quite a spell. Hundreds of times we have heard that horn, which sounds like a sick cow's moan magnified many times.

Yet when it went off the air, we didn't even miss it.

WE GATHER from Fire Chief George Maxwell and his staff that our reaction (or lack of same) over the demise of the noontime horn apparently was par for the course as far as the rest of the townspeople were concerned.

No irate citizens have called to protest.

Probably, if one worked at it, a case could be developed tc keep the horn blowing.

It could be argued, we suppose, with considerable merit, that the ear-splitting blast tended to be a great reminder for those who had luncheon appointments--or for those whose watches were losing or gaining time.

On the other hand we know of many who, figuratively and literally, hit the ceiling when the horn sounded off and they hadn't been expecting it.

And it was always quite a shattering experience to have been in close proximity to the fire station around noontime and to have forgotten for the moment about that blasted horn.

Then. . powie--right between the ears....

Unofficially there have been a lot of records set in high jumping because of that horn.

CORNERSTONE LAYING ceremonies are not unusual. We've witnessed quite a number in our day.

But a cornerstone unlaying program like the one that is tentatively scheduled for April 19 in Campbell is something else again.

That is when it is planned to remove the Campbell Grammar School cornerstone that was put in place in 1922.

It will be a joint city-school district venture.

We are giving Bill Henley and Charlie Rose a hand in trying to organize some sort of a program for this unprecedented event.

City may need bond issue to finance improvements

How to reconcile the needs of the city as far as future street improvement projects are concerned with the city's pocketbook will be the main concern of the city administration for the next few years. And it may take a bond issue to get the needed work done. That was pretty well established Monday night when, at an adjourned meeting, the City Council learned from Bill Helms, acting city engineer, what major streets will need to be improved and how it was planned to maintain the minor streets on a satisfactory basis.

The City Council also received the street improvement recommendations of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce listed on a priority basis. Ted Regas, chairman of the C. of C. highway and street relations committee, made the report.

Helms also reported on storm drainage needs of the city. He indicated that the city staff felt that the storm drain projects could probably be taken care of on a pay-as-you-go basis plus using the remainder of the funds of the storm drain bond issue.

But to finance the street improvements together with a civic center development and a park expansion program will take a great deal of money, the City Council learned. The possibility that the city might have to go to bonds in order to accomplish all the objectives seemed apparent to most of the council members.

In his street report, Helms pinpointed Budd, Bascom, Hacienda as well as part of Hamilton Ave. as streets that will need improvements.

He explained that Budd Ave. is slated to get a heavy traffic load when the expressway is finished to that street next year. Four moving lanes are needed on Bascom and Hamilton needed to be widened to six-lanes from the freeway to Bascom. Union Ave. is another street that will eventually need improvement, the city engineer added.

The City engineer also said that his office would soon present a complete report on the minor street maintenance program based on a comprehensive field survey that has been made by the engineering department.

RAIN DROPS!!

February only brought .40 inch of rain to Campbell, according to the Campbell Water Co. gauge. In March so far .33 inch has fallen bringing the total to date 12.53 inches.

Schools to open this fall on September 13

Opening and closing dates for the Campbell Union (elementary) School District for 1965-66 will coincide with those set for the other school districts in the area, according to the school calendar adopted by the trustees at their last meeting. Campbell Union High, Cambrian, Moreland, Union, San Jose Unified and West Valley College as well as the Campbell elementary will open on September 13, 1965 and close on June 16, 1966.

Parents interested in planning ahead for next year's holidays can count on Christmas vacation December 20 through New Year's Day. Easter vacation runs April 4 through Easter Sunday, April 10.

There are some more of the long weekends enjoyed this year: the Friday following Thanksgiving Day, which falls on November 25 accounts for the usual one, Monday, February 21 is a holiday, with Washington's Birthday falling on Tuesday, February 22. Since Veterans' Day falls on Thursday, a local holiday granted Friday, November 12 makes another four day weekend.

The district will provide 177 days when students are taught. The legal minimum is 175.

Carriers deliver by mailsters

There are a lot of "wheels" at the Campbell Post Office today. But the "wheels" are not the boss-type. They are the rolling kind.

Recently the local office became almost entirely mobile through the acquisition of 15 new "mailsters", the three-wheeled, two-cylinder gas buggies that look like second cousins to the carts that scurry around golf courses.

According to Postmaster James M. Hurley, the mailsters have now been put on 14 routes. Prior to the advent of the mailsters, the carriers all walked. Hurley said that out of the 25 regular routes from the local post office, only five are now classified as "walk-outs". There are also five other mounted routes on which panel trucks are used and one parcel post relays-special delivery route.

The photos on the right and below, illustrate how the mailsters are used. In the top photo, Postmaster Hurley (left) and Glenn Knowles, superintendent of mails, check the wagon of Ray McVea's. In the next photo Don Miller starts to load up.

Junior college bonds

On April 20 voters in the Campbell area will have to make a number of important decisions when they cast their ballots.

Among the issues is the $17.8 million bond issue for the West Valley College.

Unification of the Campbell Union High School District is another question while the election of school trustees is still another.

The Chairman of the "Vote Yes for West Valley College Committee" in a recent statement challenged the opponents' official ballot argument and claimed that the opponents' "were not in the possession of the facts". The opposing argument was filed by a group which has assumed the title, the "Committee for Sound School Financing".

A statement favoring the measure also will appear on the ballot.

Because the statement of the chairman of the committee favoring the bonds answers many of the arguments presented by the opponents we are publishing the statement of Vernon L. Rutlen, the chairman.

They say the $17.8 million bonds would impose the largest junior college indebtedness in the state outside Los Angeles.

"Well, Foothill College, which is outside Los Angeles, has a bonded debt now of $11.9 million and authorization to issue $11.6 million more in bonds. That's $23.5 million."

"The opponents refer to the "hidden costs of services, roads and extra driving if the campus is built in Saratoga, where purchase negotiations are now going on, he said. Just what are these so-called hidden costs? Since when does it cost more to drive to Saratoga, from within our district, than to Foothill?

"The opponents say we are preparing to spend so much on our Saratoga "showplace campus" that it will be many years before district finances will permit building of campuses closer to Campbell and Santa Clara."

"Actually our campus as planned will cost $70 per student less than the statewide average. Furthermore, if Foothill, San Mateo and West Valley Campuses were to be built starting today, Foothill would cost $25.39 a square foot, San Mateo $26.40 and West Valley $24.50. The West Valley campus, if constructed through the purchase of bonds, can be paid for at our current junior college tax rate of 54 cents.

"The opposition claims that 13,000 students would be crammed into the Saratoga campus before another campus could be financed. He flatly denied the figure.

"But even so, because it is alleged that we can't take care of the 13,000, the opponents don't want to take care of any of them. This does not make sense. What about the 3200 crammed into the temporary grammar school building (the temporary campus) with at least 1500 more expected next year?

"The opponents say that only 10 percent of our students come from Los Gatos and Saratoga with the other 90 percent expecting to drive through heavy traffic to get to class," Rutlen said. "Actually 18.5 percent of the West Valley students have Los Gatos and Saratoga addresses. Many more outside these two cities live close by to the north and east. Eventually the Saratoga campus will serve primarily the students from these two cities. And even in the beginning, students will largely be in opposite lanes from commuters when they go to and from class."

"The opponents have accused West Valley College of lack of cooperation with Foothill and San Jose City College thus depriving West Valley students of attending nearby colleges of their choice. The issuance of 4500 permits this year for West Valley students to attend other colleges can hardly be called lack of cooperation."

"They accuse us of a policy of deception to capture a student body. Actually, the trustees at West Valley have been very liberal in allowing permits to other schools. But why should we now continue to pay seat fees to other schools when we can educate our own students for less at home?"

"Finally the opponents say our trustees ignore facts which they say show our district unable to support future obligations. They claim the district is far below the legal minimum assessed valuation per student required for new districts.

"On the basis of reports by the State Department of Education, 45 out of 65 junior college districts in the state have a lower assessed valuation per A.D.A. (average daily attendance) than West Valley. Some of the 45 have long and distinguished records. Oakland, Compton, Glendale, Long Beach, Pasadena, Santa Monica, Riverside, Sacramento, San Jose and many others have assessed valuations below the minimum for new districts. Should they be dissolved, Rutlen asked. But even so, if we were less than the minimum, the state school apportionment program would guarantee support.

We all have agreed that, although we don't have any idea what sort of program is fitting for such occasions, it will be brief.

Some excellent ideas for a program were contained in a letter we received this week which we are turning over to Bill.

Then GEORGE ROBSON called to tell us that he remembered a great deal about the time the cornerstone was put in place back in 1922, Robson, by the way, is 90 years young and has been around Campbell since 1900. His two sons were graduated from Campbell High and he was the first president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce.

Robson recalled that the Masonic Lodge sponsored the program and maybe lodge members have some official record of the event.

The files of The Campbell Press, unfortunately, are incomplete for 1922 so we are pretty much in the dark as to what took place on that eventful day some 43 years ago. So we appreciate any eye-witness accounts we can collect.

Some time ago Mrs. Nellie Carvalho called to inform us that her husband, Joe, assisted the contractor in the construction of the school.

Then from our files we dug out the fact that at the dedicatory program held in April, 1923, Mrs. Ralph Hyde was a soloist.

And, of course, as we have reported on a number of times, that Mayor Charles Rose was in the fifth grade when the cornerstone was laid.. He remembers dropping a penny in the container in the cornerstone.

So there are quite a few still around who were there in 1922 when the cornerstone was put in place.

We hope many of 'em show up for the unlaying ceremony.

IN AN UNSIGNED letter to us this week the writer lambasted the merchants on Campbell Ave. for having dirty sidewalks.

The writer wondered why the business and professional people didn't take more pride in the sidewalks in front of their businesses.

The letter was signed "an old timer in Campbell" and in the last paragraph he asked that The Campbell Press write something to inspire these people to take some pride in town in which they earn a living.

Why people think unsigned letters should be given any consideration is beyond our comprehension. If they prefer, their names need not be published. But, holy smokes, we don't think it is asking too much for the letters to be signed.

We have received hundreds of anonymous letters in our day. Some contained excellent points. Others may have raked us over the coals.

And in others it was very obvious why they weren't signed.

But there was one thing in common for all of them as far as we were concerned.

The waste basket.

Committee urges present summer program continue

Campbell Union (elementary) School District should continue with its present summer school program which is centered around the music instruction and includes a varied recreation program.

That was the recommendation of the summer school study committee submitted to the trustees at the last meeting.

The committee was composed of two trustees, William Parton and Howard Guilbert and three principals, Mrs. Dorothy Sutter, Wayne Fontes and Tony VanLaarhoven.

The committee also recommended that a continuous remedial program be offered during the school year.

In addition to the music that is offered during the summer, the program offers opportunities for work and study in the industrial art shops, crafts instruction in group games and sports and an opportunity to attend the summer swim program of the high school district.

The continuous remedial program should help prevent future high school dropouts, according to Mrs. Eleanor Graham-Armstrong, long-time trustee. Board members also indicated that they felt a continuous remedial program was better than a brief summer setup to help the dropout situation.

The committee reported that the high school district has only a 4% dropout record compared to a nationwide 25% and a state 13%. Board members and the committee agreed that 4% was too many.

In accepting the recommendation of the summer school study committee, board members were unanimous in their praise for the summer music program that has been conducted in the past years.

San Tomas Pharmacy burglarized

San Tomas Pharmacy, 875 San Tomas Rd., was entered during the night of March 12 and a considerable amount of cash and negotiable checks were stolen, according to a report from the Campbell Police Department.

The burglary was discovered by a customer, who found the door unlocked and the lights on at 8:45 a.m. and entered to make a purchase. The owner, Edgar A. Saville, appeared a little later.

Saville told police cash was taken from the cash register and from the locked safe which contained collections from the PG&E, San Jose Water Company, and money orders. The exact amount taken was not known as yet. A Maintenance Company employee told the owner he had cleaned the floors of the pharmacy that night, but had checked that the door was locked when he left.

Bridal shower given for Sharon Mayberry

Miss Sharon Mayberry, bride-to-be of John Plymale of Campbell, was the guest of honor recently at a miscellaneous bridal shower hosted by Miss Mary Ochoa. Guests were former classmates of Miss Mayberry, who is a graduate of Blackford High School. A dainty pink umbrella was the centerpiece of the buffet table. Games were played and the honoree received many beautiful gifts for her new home.

The young couple have set Saturday, March 20, as their wedding date. The ceremony will be held at the Church of the Valley in Santa Clara. Sharon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Mayberry, 3193 Finch Drive. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Plymale of 214 No. Third St., Campbell. He is a graduate of Campbell High School and is presently serving in the U.S. Navy aboard the USS Kawishiwi, with home port in Hawaii. He is the brother of Sgt. Frank Furtaw of the Campbell Police Department.

THAT FEMININE TOUCH

By Dolores Keywood

I have received many letters asking me to give some tips on walking and sitting. Since this comes under the heading of visual poise, there is very little I can write that will be of any great help, but perhaps I can offer a few words of advice.

When walking, you should try to create the illusion that your toes are pointing straight ahead. However, if you do this and watch your feet in a full length mirror, you will note that you will appear to be toeing inward. For this reason, I suggest you point your toes just slightly outward. Your weight will be more evenly distributed and your toes will seem to be pointing straight ahead.

Do not walk on one line as you will appear to be crossing over, but instead use two parallel lines, about two inches apart. This will create the single line illusion.

Swinging the hips from side to side creates a pendulum effect and makes the hips appear broader. Instead, try twisting a bit, at the waist while walking. This will minimize the hip area, help give a smoother impression and is far more lady-like. However, the shoulders should face front and remain still. The arms should fall in a relaxed position at the sides and the hands should slightly brush the side seams of the skirt, thumbs forward.

When sitting, the most important thing to remember is to KEEP THE KNEES TOGETHER. The thighs should form a diagonal line across the seat of the chair. This position is more flattering because it tends to make the thighs and hips appear smaller and the over-all line is prettier. When the knees are not crossed, keep one foot in front of the other, with both feet flat on the floor.

Be sure to pull the waist up out of the hips to avoid a slump.

Shoulders, again, should face front and hands should be held in the lap in a relaxed position, opposite the knees.

One's first impression is generally based on visual poise so don't underestimate it's importance. Clothes, cosmetics and hair style, too, are important, but the way one moves or just sits still is truly what has the greatest initial influence on the first impression one makes.

Mrs. Gardner announces "The play appeals to children and adults of all ages, and is the third major fund raising event of the AAUW year. The public is invited, and tickets will be available at the door, or may be obtained by phoning Mrs. Paul Gagner at 243-1326".

Bucknall School presented flag

Girl Scout Troop #704 raised a special flag over Bucknall School in the Moreland School District last week. As a result of a service project by the girls of Troop #704, under the direction of Mrs. Norman Schultz, a flag now flies over the school which flew over the Capitol in Washington, D.C.

The girls heard that it was possible to obtain flags which were flown over the Capitol Building and wrote to Representative Charles Gubser. Their research indicated that if they purchased a flag through Mr. Gubser, it would be flown over the Capitol and then sent to them. When the flag arrived, it was accompanied by a statement from the Architect of the Capitol which said, "This is to certify that the accompanying flag has flown over the United States Capitol" and was signed J. George Stewart.

The girls of Troop #704 conducted a formal presentation in a flag raising ceremony for the entire Student Body of the school.

City of Hope seeks funds

Telephones are ringing all over the Santa Clara Valley as the Santa Clara County Auxiliary for the City of Hope launches its annual fund-raising campaign.

Recruitment of volunteers began last month and will continue until the campaign ranks are filled.

Mrs. Egon Upright, chairman of the local fund drive, said "Although we are gratified by the initial response to our call for volunteers, we must enlist many more."

Rather than waiting for their telephones to ring, interested individuals may pledge their time for the May 4 march by telephoning the local City of Hope office at 297-4130.

Here's an old-time remedy for a sore throat—take a feather . . . dip it in kerosene . . . rub over the infected area. This is a case of the cure being worse than the illness. It's nice to know we don't have to rely on such ineffective and unpleasant "relief." So, don't take chances when your health is involved. MORE ABOUT

Virgil Williamson, John Monsess, Dave Phillips and Ray McVea.

Postmaster Hurley is enthusiastic over the mechanized delivery system. He points out that the customers also benefit because parcel post is delivered at the same time as regular mail, eliminating calls at the post office. In addition, the delivery of mail is speeded up to the homes.

The Campbell post office has had an outstanding growth during the past 10 years. Postmaster Hurley said that receipts 10 years ago totalled $48,000 whereas today the office is doing about $340,000 annually.

Hurley said that there are 7694 "stops" in the local post office area composed of 5731 residences, 545 stores, 23 office buildings and 1395 units of apartment buildings. The local office employs 54 persons.

The postmaster added that the mailsters have benefitted the post office because it has eliminated the cost of transporting the carriers to and from their routes.

The mailsters, which were built according to postal specifications by the Westcoaster Machinery Co., of Stockton, can develop a speed of 25 MPH, offer protection to the carrier during inclement weather and eliminates the heavy load that was carried on a walking route.

THIS IS A MAILSTER--Recently the Campbell post office acquired 15 of these three-wheeled jobs as pictured above. They have been assigned to routes formerly that were walked by the carriers.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Your Social Security

By
Gladstone A. Boquist

Q. During the growing season last year, a farm employer and I agreed that I would be paid $200.00 per month and that he would furnish a house for my family. The rental value of the house was about $60.00 per month. The record of wages he gave me when my work ended showed only the $200.00 per month. Why don't I get social security credit for the rental value of the house? It was part of my pay.

A. The law as written states that for agricultural workers, only cash wages are covered under social security. Non-cash items such as housing, food, or other items of value furnished under the employment agreement cannot be included.

Q. My husband is disabled, and he and I and our 15-year-old daughter are receiving social security disability insurance checks. My husband and I are moving to Arizona for his health, but our daughter will remain with my sister who will be caring for her until she graduates from high school in 3 years. How will this affect our benefits?

A. If you are under 62, you yourself may receive benefits only for the months in which your daughter is in your care. If you plan to be away from your daughter for 3 years, she would not generally be considered to be in your care. We suggest that you notify your social security office just before you leave for Arizona. Your checks will stop but your daughter (and, of course, your husband) will continue to receive benefits. Your daughter's checks may go to your sister, since she will be caring for the girl.

Q. My earnings average less than $1500 per year. I understand I can apply for benefits next year when I am 62, and that my benefit will be reduced for those months I am under age 65. What concerns me is, will benefits for my wife and two minor children also be reduced?

A. Benefits payable to your dependents will not be reduced because of your decision to receive reduced benefits. Their benefits will be based on the amount which would be payable to you at age 65. This provision has the effect of increasing total payments to you and your family during your lifetime.

Q. I am buying a small business, and I'll be hiring two employees to work in my business. Do I have to report their earnings for social security purposes?

A. Yes. Their earnings have to be reported. You should get in touch with your social security office or Internal Revenue Office and ask for Form SS-4 to get your employer's identification number. Mail this Form SS-4 to the Internal Revenue Office, and they will send you the Form 941's that you should use to report your employees' wages.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

Just ten years ago the nation was awakening to a problem which had alarmed professional educators for some time. After years of depression and war, which left a backlog of construction needs and a shortage of teachers, the school system was not prepared for the 50% increased enrollment of "war babies" which would start in the mid-1950's. Between 1930 and 1935 school enrollment was relatively stable at 28.5 million. Now, in ten years it would mushroom to 43 million.

President Eisenhower's 1955 White House Conference on Education concluded that expenditures would have to double within ten years. The 1958 Rockefeller Fund Report urged that we raise educational expenditure from 3.6% to 5% of the Gross National Product. It called state and local tax systems "archaic" and indicted the property tax system as "notably laggard" as a revenue source for education. Professional education groups, some federal officials, and many concerned individuals then concluded that this gloomy picture could only be changed with a massive infusion of federal money to support education.

A decade has now passed during which federal contributions to education have always remained under 5% of total expenditure. Thus, the challenge of the past decade has been met by state and local effort. To see how well local government has met the problem which so many said could only be solved with federal aid, let's take a look at the record.

Elementary and secondary school enrollment has increased 44% since 1954. Expenditures are up 77%. In ten years our national investment in education has more than doubled. Expenditures per public school pupil increased 50% from $296 in 1953-54 to $444 in 1963-64. The number of teachers has increased 55%. And teachers salaries are up by 43%.

Since 1954 we have invested over $30 billion in public school construction and have built nearly 700,000 classrooms--considerably more than the 400,000 which the experts of 1954 predicted we would need.

Though the Rockefeller Report said we should be spending 5% of the Gross National Product for education by 1957, we were doing this by 1962. The "notably laggard" property tax which yielded $10.7 billion in 1955 rose to $19 billion in 1962 for an increase of 78%.

Admittedly this dramatic record was partly stimulated because Russia's Sputnik revealed significant weaknesses in the quality of our education. But the fact remains that it was accomplished without the massive federal aid which the experts of 1955 said was essential.

Today we face another decade. With the "war babies" practically through school, elementary and secondary enrollment is expected to increase by only 13% as compared with the 45% explosion for the ten years ending in 1963. But the cries of crisis are still with us, only this time they justify massive federal aid to education as part of the war on poverty.

Practically every American wants to help now just as he wanted to help in education's last "crisis". And judging from the magnificent past record of the American people and local government they will continue to rise to responsibility---without federal aid.

THIS SOUFFLE CAN'T FALL!

Oh, for the souffle that doesn't fall!

This has been a common complaint of homemakers everywhere, but now you can prepare a special tuna souffle that holds its shape. The secret—rice, which gives body.

The flavoring in this dish, called Tuna Puff-Up, is far from bland. Thanks to the addition of bottled lemon juice which blends perfectly with the tuna-cheese mixture, an unexpected tang is added.

Try Tuna Puff-Up for a Lenten meal treat. Remember, bottled lemon juice can be a lifesaver at this time of year. It's perfect with many fish dishes and so easy and economical to use.

TUNA PUFF-UP

1 can (10 1/2 ounces) cheese soup
1/3 cup milk
2 cups cooked rice
1 can (6 1/2 to 7 ounces) tuna, drained
1/4 cup bottled lemon juice
3 egg yolks, beaten
2 tablespoons minced parsley
2 tablespoons chopped pimento
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Combine soup and milk; heat. Add rice and tuna. Combine bottled lemon juice, egg yolks, parsley and pimento, add to soup mixture. Gently fold into egg whites. Pour into a greased 10 x 6 x 1 1/2-inch baking dish. Bake in a slow oven (325° F.) about 30 minutes, or until done. 6 servings.

Note: Cook rice in unsalted water.

Del Mar Dateline

by
Rosalie Ann Castello

Grandpa Long, also known as Pitcher Long, Del Mar's famed mascot, died on February 28, 1965. All of Del Mar was saddened by the news. Grandpa cheered at Del Mar's rallies and gave the students hope when they were down and cheers when they were victors. The entire student body will miss this kind, gentle and great friend.

Four seniors at Del Mar have been selected to represent their school in this year's Bank of America Achievement program. Chosen by members of the faculty, the top winners will receive trophies and their records will be judged against those of candidates from other schools for the right to enter zone competition, which will be held April 13 in Santa Clara.

The trophy winners, and the study fields in which they were chosen are: Debbie Pearl, Liberal Arts; Margaret Skinner, Vocational Arts; Carol Transeth, Fine Arts; and Bruce McDiarmid, Science and Mathematics.

Del Mar Sports

by Tom Jacob

Paced by senior sprinter Wayne Howard, Del Mar's varsity track team opened its season with an easy 75-47 victory over San Jose High. Howard, running against a stiff wind, won the 100 yd. dash in 10.5 seconds, and took the 180 yd. low hurdles in a time of 21.5 seconds. He also led the 880 yd. relay team to a victory.

Other outstanding performances were turned in by Pete Fehler in the 880, Rod Collins in the 120 yd. hurdles, and Mike Haines in the high jump.

The Dons' swimming team also got off to a flying start as they downed Westmont by a 67-28 margin. Todd Hayes and David Shilling came through with the day's finest performances.

Hayes, a senior and three year letterman, won the 100 yd. butterfly and recorded the fastest time in the league for the week of March 5. Shilling, a freshman, recorded the fastest time of the week in the 100 yd. breaststroke.

The Del Mar baseball team was not as fortunate as the track and swimming team. They lost their opener by a 10-2 margin to a strong Fremont team on March 9. The only bright spot for the Dons was Guy Martin's 2-run first inning triple. The team came back two days later, however, and defeated Irvington 11-1, with Bill Weterstrom collecting a triple.

The Del Mar sports calender for the coming week shows the track team entertaining Camden on Friday March 19.

Our Town

By Grace Hebard

Received several replies to my request for the names of radio programs that were popular in the thirties and forties... REBA CHAPPELL of 312 Christopher came up with this list... The Lone Ranger, Gang Busters, Mr. District Attorney, The Shadow, The Green Hornet, One Man's Family, Backstage Wife, Stella Dallas, Ma Perkins, Major Bowes Amateur Hour, Inner Sanctum, Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, and the Lucky Strike Hit Parade...

AL VATUONE, the personable Assistant Superintendent of the Cambrian School District, sent in these "oldies"... Kraft Music Hall, Sherlock Holmes, The First Nighter with Les Tremaine, the Kay Kyser College of Musical Knowledge, Fibber McGee and Molly, I Love A Mystery, Phil Baker with Beatle and Bottle, Eddie Cantor, Ed Wynn on the Texaco Hour, Tallulah Bankhead on the NBC show, Fred Allen, Henry Morgan (who used to kid the sponsors), Henry Aldrich and Little Orphan Annie... (Do you still have your Ovaltine mug?)..

Friends of DOLORES KEYWOOD will be sorry to hear she is in Serra Hospital with pneumonia. According to her daughter, Jackie, Dolores had neglected a cold and is completely exhausted. We all hope to see her up and around very soon.

CONGRATULATIONS to MR. AND MRS. KEN ROBERTS of Palo Santo Drive on the birth of a daughter, Christie Lois, on March 8...

ANN HELDERMAN of Violet Way was the lucky winner of a Camp Stove for Girl Scout Cadette Troop 13 at the Fairgrounds last week when the Santa Clara County Council held a "Cadette Challenge Fair". MRS. JEAN McDONALD is leader of Troop 13 which is for Seventh, Eighth and Ninth grade Girl Scouts...

VANESSA GUENOT, 753 Pollard Road, who is currently enrolled as a Freshman at Graceland College in Iowa, will play the violin in concert with the college orchestra on tour March 26 - April 4. The tour will cover 2,500 miles in Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas...

W. T. QUIGLEY, 226 Rosemary Lane, will be among the Tidewater Oil Company employees honored at the firm's annual diamond service award dinner in San Francisco's St. Francis Hotel tomorrow night. Quigley has been with Tidewater for 30 years.

Junior College board

Two candidates list platforms

D. A. GANZEL

Dr. Dewey A. Ganzel, a retired educator and psychologist, of 19740 Glen Brae Drive, Saratoga, has announced his candidacy for the board of trustees of the West Valley Junior College District and the county board of education.

He is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and Columbia University and he and his wife, Jane, have two grown children, a son who is a teacher at Oberlin College and a married daughter who is an attorney with the Justice department.

Dr. Ganzel, in his statement of candidacy, lists his background as a teacher, principal and city and county superintendent as qualifications for a board member.

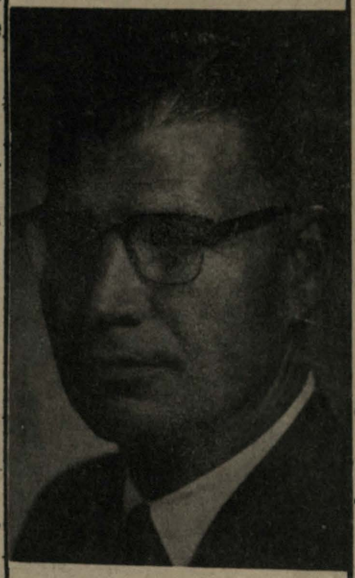
He is now retired from government service in which he served as chief counseling psychologist and is interested in devoting his time to community activities and maintains that he will work full time at the job.

He favors a revaluation of the entire junior college program to determine the present and and future needs of the junior college district to be met by a tax levy that is "consistent with good business management".

He also favors the reorganizations of school districts to improve the quality of education.

In asking for support Dr. Ganzel points out, that, "if you feel there should be a change in the board, as a number of people have indicated, this is your opportunity."

R. B. ATCHISON



Richard B. Atchison, 46, an appraiser with the Santa Clara County's assessor office, who now resides at 20920 Jacks Road, Saratoga, has announced his candidacy for the board of trustees of the West Valley Junior College District. He is married and has a six-year old son.

Atchison, who has resided in the area since 1956, last year moved to Saratoga but prior to that time he lived in the Campbell area.

In his statement, Atchison pledged to "explore and keep an open mind to unification with other districts in order to give a broader tax base to insure a good education for our young people at a reasonable cost".. He claims that the present board and administration has taken a stand that "unification is a horrible monster to be avoided at all cost".

He adds that he will work diligently to obtain a dollar's value for a dollar spent on education and charges that the present board seems "more interested in building a monument to education than in education."

Atchison maintains that he will work with the community and the cities. He charges that the present board has shown a disregard for the people of the community.

In his statement Atchison declares that he wants to explore every avenue of cooperation with other districts and that the present board has failed to recognize other districts' problems.

He concludes by claiming that further exploration is needed for campus sites in view of the objections to the present plan.
